A note about the schedule

These itineraries are designed around three riding days, with shuttle arrangements beginning the day before your first ride. Lodging and meals are at the rider's expense unless specifically noted.

OPTION 1

Single-Shuttle Adventure

The simplest and most economical way to ride the entire Mickelson Trail.

If you're comfortable carrying your overnight gear and don't mind a longer day 2 ride, this is the most affordable way to ride the entire trail. Park your vehicle in Edgemont and we'll shuttle you and your bicycles to Deadwood. From there, the adventure is yours - ride south over three days and finish right back at your vehicle.

Day 1 - Edgemont to Deadwood by Shuttle

Leave your vehicle in Edgemont and meet us for your private bicycle shuttle to Deadwood. We'll transport you, your bicycles, and your gear approximately two hours north to Deadwood. Check into your hotel, enjoy the evening, and get ready to start riding the next morning. Lodging and meals are at your own expense.

Day 2 - Deadwood to Hill City | 47 miles

Ride south from Deadwood to Hill City, carrying the clothing, toiletries, medications, and other overnight essentials you'll need for your trip.

Our Local Tip - Plan Lunch in Rochford

Rochford is 24.3 miles from Deadwood and is the best - and essentially only - place to purchase food along this day's ride. For a meal, you'll find Moonshine Gulch Saloon and the hot dog/steam burger stand. Happy Dog Cafe is a great stop for coffee and sweet treats, and Rochford also has a very small convenience store for basic necessities.

Day 3 - Hill City to Custer | 15.8 miles

Ride from Hill City to Custer for a shorter day on the trail. You'll ride directly past the entrance to Crazy Horse Memorial along the way. Since today's riding mileage is lighter, you may want to allow extra time to stop and visit Crazy Horse Memorial and explore its world-class Native American museum and cultural exhibits before continuing your ride to Custer for the night.

Day 4 - Custer to Edgemont | 43.8 miles

Ride 43.8 miles from Custer to Edgemont for your final day on the Mickelson Trail. This section trends downhill overall and makes for a rewarding finish. Your vehicle will be waiting for you in Edgemont when you finish.

Food Along the Way

The only food service along this section is in Pringle at the Hitch Rail Bar & Restaurant. It is closed on Mondays, so Monday riders should carry enough food for the day.

What's Included

- Private Edgemont to Deadwood bicycle shuttle
- Transportation for you, your bicycles, and your gear

You arrange lodging in Deadwood, Hill City, and Custer, along with meals, trail passes, and everything you need along the way.

OPTION 2

Self-Supported Adventure

Independent riding with strategic shuttle support along the way.

Your vehicle stays in Edgemont while you make your way south from Deadwood. You'll carry your clothing, toiletries, medications, and other overnight essentials on your bicycle.

Day 1 - Edgemont to Deadwood by Shuttle

Meet us in Edgemont, where you'll leave your vehicle. We'll load you and your bicycles and shuttle you approximately two hours north to Deadwood. Check into your hotel, explore historic Deadwood, enjoy dinner, and get a good night's rest. Lodging and meals are at your own expense.

Day 2 - Deadwood to Mystic | 32.6 miles

Ride 32.6 miles from Deadwood to Mystic. You'll tackle the trail's famous 12 mile 4% grade climb out of Deadwood before enjoying some of the most beautiful scenery on the remaining downhill run from the Dumont trailhead into Mystic. When you reach Mystic, we'll meet you at the trailhead and shuttle you to Hill City for the night.

Our Local Tip - Plan Lunch in Rochford

Rochford is 24.3 miles from Deadwood and is the best - and essentially only - place to purchase food along this day's ride. For a meal, you'll find Moonshine Gulch Saloon and the hot dog/steam burger stand. Happy Dog Cafe is a great stop for coffee and sweet treats, and Rochford also has a very small convenience store for basic necessities.

Day 3 - Mystic to Custer | 30.2 miles

A Few Things We've Learned Along the Way

Watch the Weather

Black Hills weather can change quickly, and afternoon thunderstorms can be intense. Check the forecast several days before your ride and again the morning you leave. Carry rain gear and layers, even when the morning looks beautiful.

Stay Hydrated

The Black Hills have a dry climate, and it's easy to underestimate how much water you're losing while riding. Many trailheads have potable water available. We recommend refilling whenever you have the opportunity.

Know Your E-Bike

Know your realistic battery range before attempting a long section. Hills and higher levels of assist can affect battery life. Charging opportunities are available in Rochford, which can be helpful on longer riding days.

Don't Depend on Cell Service

Cell service is limited or nonexistent along portions of the trail. If a call won't go through, sometimes a text will. If you can get word to us when something unexpected happens, we'll do everything reasonably possible to help, but it may take time to reach you.

Give Yourself Enough Daylight

Take your time and enjoy the trail, but keep track of your progress and sunset time. Don't plan on finishing after dark unless you're properly equipped for night riding.

Trail Pass

A Mickelson Trail pass is required for riders age 12 and older. Trail passes can be purchased at the trailheads. Be sure to bring cash to purchase your pass. Daily pass: $5. Annual pass: $20.

Don't Take the Shortcut!

Just 3.5 miles outside of Deadwood at the Kirk trailhead you may be tempted to 'take the shortcut'; after all it's shorter! We suggest you save yourself from the surprise 17% grade and stay right toward Sugarloaf.

Book Early - Please Call to Reserve
